COURSE GUIDELINES & EXPECTATIONS

In Class Test #1 and #2 and #3

The tests will consist of approximately 30 multiple-choice questions, and a short answer component. The short answer section is composed of two questions. Your responses on this component should clearly explain concepts and/or theories, and be written in a way that clearly articulates your ideas. You should take care with respect to spelling and grammar; while marks will not be deducted for basic spelling and grammatical mistakes, if I cannot understand what you are trying to say, you will lose points. Quality is what is critical – not quantity.

The dates of the tests are as follows: Test#1 = Tuesday, February 14; Test#2 = Tuesday, March 14; and Test#3 = Thursday, April 13.

The class before every test will constitute an informal review class; in essence, a review class is like a tutorial session where students come to class with prepared questions on the lecture content they will be tested on. As such, the review classes are directed by students, and work best when students arrive with items to discuss.

The tests themselves are NOT cumulative.

THERE IS NO FINAL EXAM IN THIS CLASS, ONLY A THIRD TEST.

Group Discussions (12%):

In talking about social phenomena, it is inevitable that we will discuss issues or topics that some may deem to be controversial. While an effort will be made to get students to participate in class discussions on many of these issues, it has been the experience of this Instructor that most students feel intimidated by the prospect of speaking up in class; this is very understandable; making one's opinions heard in a class of 40 or so students can be a daunting experience.

In order to alleviate this concern, the class will be broken up into small groups where students can more comfortably express their opinions on a given topic. During the course of the term, two such discussion groups will be held as follows: Thursday, March 9 and Thursday, March 30. The required readings for the discussion assignments and their respective instructions can be found on D2L.

In order to be fair to all students, the following conduct will be penalized:

- Depositing your questions with the instructor or sending them with another student and not participating in the discussions.
- Not attending the discussion sessions without a legitimate excuse.
- Doing the review sessions before class and then just coming to class to hand in the review session.

In-Class Video Assignments (16 %)

On Tuesday, February 7 and Thursday, March 16, a documentary video will be shown that will highlight various issues related to technology. Immediately after each video, students will be required to answer a question directly related to the material presented in the documentary on their own or with others. The response to this question must be in sentence form and clearly articulated; in other words, do not make vague or incomplete statements. The quality of the response is what is important, not how long the answer is. In this respect, limit your answer to ONE page, single spaced. Once again, this does not mean you have to write one page, but try your best not to submit a response that is longer than one page.

Bonus Marks (1% x 2 = 2%)

Two of the lectures near the end of the term will have a very different structure to the other lectures in this course. These lectures are entitled, Reclaiming Conversation and The Surveillance Society (Chapter 11).

In this respect, the first part of these classes will constitute a time in which the Instructor will summarize the important ideas of each lecture. The second part of each class will require students to optionally break into groups of 2 to 4 people and proceed to answer one or two critical thinking questions inspired by the content of the two lectures. The group will select a recorder who will write down the group's answer (s) to the presented question (s), which will then be submitted at the end of each class. It should be emphasized that students have the option to do the bonus mark exercises on their own if they wish. The response(s) to the critical question(s) should NOT EXCEED one page per question. The quality of the response is what is important, not the length.

The critical thinking exercises will not be graded, but the Instructor will review the submitted work to ensure that the group made an effort in answering the question (s). Any response that is reasonable will be automatically accepted and everyone in the group will receive a bonus grade of one percent that will be added to their final grade at the end of the term. Since there will be two such assignments, students can expect to receive a maximum of two bonus marks, assuming they have completed both assignments. If the group work, however, shows a serious lack of effort, the group members will not receive the full participation mark of one percent.

Optional Bonus Assignments - 2% (1% for each)

On Tuesday, April 4 and Thursday, April 6 students will have an opportunity to earn bonus marks of up to two percent that will be added to their final grade upon completion of the course. Since this component is purely optional, students can elect not to complete the exercise associated with the bonus marks. The first exercise itself requires students to watch a video and then to answer one question associated with the video; and the second exercise will be an in-class reading assignment. As long as students provide a reasonable response in the assignments, they will automatically earn the bonus marks. However, if the response shows a serious lack of effort, it will not earn the full two percent per assignment. Students who miss this assignment can receive the bonus marks provided they have a legitimate reason.

Missed Tests and Assignments

IF STUDENTS MISS TESTS OR ASSIGNMENTS, OR GROUP DISCUSSIONS, IT IS THEIR RESPONSIBILITY TO CONTACT THE INSTRUCTOR AS SOON AS PRACTICALLY POSSIBLE WITH RESPECT TO THEIR ABSENCE. IN ORDER TO MAKE-UP THE MISSED COURSE COMPONENT, STUDENTS NEED TO PROVIDE A LEGITIMATE REASON, OTHER WISE THEY WILL RECEIVE A GRADE OF ZERO ON THE MISSED COMPONENT. IN ADDITION, STUDENTS WHO WAIT UNTIL THE TERM IS OVER TO DISCUSS WHY THEY MISSED HANDING IN ASSIGNMENTS, WRITING TESTS, OR TAKING PART IN GROUP DISCUSSIONS, WILL NOT BE ACCOMODATED.

Digital-Recording in the Classroom

In order to ensure free and open discussion of ideas by the students, digital recording of the proceedings by means of laptops, cell-phones or other equipment is not permitted in class. Exceptions, however, will be made for students who are visually impaired or are unable to write due to physical disability. Furthermore, please keep cell-phones out of sight. Students who are seen constantly using their cell phone in class will be asked to stop. If they do not comply, they will be asked to leave the class. Laptops are permitted only if they are being used to take notes or access D2L. If it appears that students are not using laptops in a constructive manner, they will not be permitted to bring laptops to class.
