Developmental Perspectives
Fall 2016

COURSE OUTLINE

Description

This course examines developmental perspectives that explain growth and development from early childhood to adolescence. Emphasis is placed on using pedagogical narratives to interpret and plan for children's early growth and learning. We will use a holistic perspective and critical thinking to explore the influence of family traditions and social-cultural environments to development.

Ω Please note: This outline will not be kept indefinitely. It is recommended students keep this outline for their records, especially to assist in transfer credit to post-secondary institutions.

ATTENDANCE

Due to the short and intense nature of the ELC program, classes are planned as a continuum for building the skill and knowledge required. Classroom experiences and participation are a major part of that competency development; therefore, consistent attendance is expected. Students are required to contact the instructor in advance if they are unable to attend class. Students who miss class are responsible for the material and assignments covered in class. Repeated absences from classes will affect a final grade.

Students must write their questions or thoughts about the reading every week. If they are absent they will email or submit in their folder their thinking/questions for the reading of the missed week.

NOTE: Students must complete all assignments to be eligible for a grade. This course must be passed with a 'C+' (65%) average.
