2. Course Description & Intended Learning Outcomes

Students will explore indigenous peoples' health experiences: past, present, and future. Using a strength-based and holistic perspective, students will learn about the current realities of Indigenous peoples' health experiences, and will be introduced to traditional healing practices. Students will be able to use this knowledge to further their own understanding of Indigenous peoples' health, and can apply this experience to work with children, families and in community.

Upon successful completion of this course a student will be able to:

- 1. describe and discuss the impact of colonization on Indigenous peoples' health in Canada.
- 2. describe the dimensions of health with consideration to their application to indigenous peoples.
- 3. explain the relationship between people, land and health and the ways in which this may be experienced by indigenous peoples and community.
- 4. discuss select holistic health approaches and cultural practices and the ways in which these enhance the health of Indigenous peoples and community.
- 5. describe future possibilities for indigenous health that encompass a strength-based holistic perspective on health.

5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

Note about grading: The assignment descriptions listed below outline the basic criteria by which you will be assessed. In order to receive top marks for your assignments you will need to go above and beyond the expectations described below. You can do this by showing a depth of engagement with the topic that you are writing about.

(a) Attendance and Participation (20%)

Attendance is a very important part of this class. You must be in class to hear what people are saying so that you can benefit from all the knowledge that is shared in this course. Participation means being prepared for class by having the readings done and being able to contribute to discussions.

(b) Self-location assignment (20%) – Due by lecture 6

A fundamental principle of Indigenous ways of knowing is the importance of self-location within your work/research/studies. For this assignment consider your own histories and relationships (identity, worldview, culture, ancestry) and write a self-location paper. Your paper should focus on who you are (identity/culturally), where you come from (ancestral origins) and how you have come to be in L'kwungen and WSÁNEĆ territory.

This assignment should be 2 full typed pages, double spaced, 12 pt. font. You do not need to provide a title page but ensure that your name and the course is listed on the paper.

(c) Critical Reflection (20%) – Due by lecture 11

Each student must write two critical reflections for this course. The critical reflections should draw on the course discussions, films, guests, and/or readings. Each critical reflection can have a short introduction that summarizes what you will be writing about. BUT remember that you are critically reflecting and NOT summarizing. Use this opportunity to critically reflect on a topic(s) and show the instructor that you have an understanding or personal experience that goes beyond readings, films, guests, and/or discussions.

Critical reflections must be 2 full typed pages, double spaced, 12 pt. font. You may use any citation style as long as you are consistent throughout the paper. You do not need to provide a title page but ensure that your name and the course is listed on the paper.

(d) Presentation (40%)

Each student or group of students (3 max) must complete a presentation that demonstrates an understanding of the content discussed throughout the course. Students may choose any topic that is related to Indigenous Peoples Health. Presentations should focus on the positive ways that Indigenous peoples are overcoming the health related impacts of colonization.

The presentation must be 10 minutes (+5 minutes per additional group member); any references (print materials, pictures, film, media, etc.) must be cited correctly. Please refer to the course schedule for the date of presentations.

The following guidelines will be used for assessment of the presentation: Introduction of topic and self; A brief overview of how colonization relates to your topic; In-depth discussion of how Indigenous people are reclaiming/revitalizing their health; How has this project impacted you?

6. Grading System

Standard Grading System (GPA)

Competency Based Grading System

7. Recommended Materials to Assist Students to Succeed Throughout the Course

2. Competency Based Grading System (Non GPA)

This grading system is based on satisfactory acquisition of defined skills or successful completion of the course learning outcomes.

Grade	Description
СОМ	The student has met the goals, criteria, or competencies established for this course practicum or field placement.
DST	The student has met and exceeded, above and beyond expectation, the goals, criteria, or competencies established for this course, practicum or field placement.
NC	The student has not met the goals, criteria or competencies established for this course, practicum or field placement.

1. Temporary Grades

Temporary grades are assigned for specific circumstances and will convert to a final grade according to the grading scheme being used in the course. See Grading Policy at http://www.camosun.bc.ca/policies/E-1.5.pdf#page=4 for information on conversion to final grades, and for additional information on student record and transcript notations.

Temporary Grade	Description
I	Incomplete : A temporary grade assigned when the requirements of a course have not yet been completed due to hardship or extenuating circumstances, such as illness or death in the family.
IP	In progress : A temporary grade assigned for courses that are designed to have an anticipated enrollment that extends beyond one term. No more than two IP grades will be assigned for the same course.
CW	Compulsory Withdrawal : A temporary grade assigned by a Dean when an instructor, after documenting the prescriptive strategies applied and consulting with peers, deems that a student is unsafe to self or others and must be removed from the lab, practicum, worksite, or field placement.
