4. Course Content and Schedule (current schedule to be provided by instructor)

This course is delivered in a blended format with online and in-class components. Both aspects are equally valued and developed to enhance student learning. Learning formats in Mental Health & Addiction (MHA) Program courses include discussions, presentations, peer interactions, student-directed research, skill development, and critical thinking activities.

Expectations of Learners

It is expected that students arrive to class prepared to contribute their knowledge and insights, having completed pre-class expectations to create a positive learning environment. Because the MHA Program prepares graduates for professional roles in the community, students are expected to demonstrate positive interpersonal behavior in the classroom, online, and in communication with instructors; this includes listening and acknowledging others, emotional maturity, respect, and effective teamwork. This document includes policies to facilitate professional practice, including punctuality, accountability, and demonstration of professional knowledge, skills, and decorum.

Technology

- Cellphones and electronic devices are not to be used while the class is in-session. The only exception is computers for purposes of note-taking as indicated by a pre-arranged Center for Accessible Learning (CAL) accommodation. We are encouraging a respectful atmosphere of “disconnect and connect” as you will see on posters throughout the campus.
- Cell-phones are to be out-of-sight with alerts and ringers turned off. Some students have difficulty disengaging and the continuous checking or distraction of the sounds and screen light deter from the classroom experience for the student and those in the vicinity. In practice, workers who use their phones for personal use are not present and engaged with their client; we discourage this and expect professional behavior of students as they prepare for moving into practicum and graduate roles.

Participation

Due to the short and intense nature of the MHA program, classes are planned as a continuum for building skills and knowledge required to meet the competencies for working in community mental health & addiction services. Assignments, D2L activities, and in-class components are complimentary and necessary for meeting learning outcomes to successfully pass the course.

Participation includes:

- Pre-class preparation completion, including reading materials prior to class start
- Arriving to class on time and regular attendance; late arrivals and absences must be communicated to the instructor prior to class start time
- Effective interpersonal communication skills including active listening, respectful dialogue, and constructive and appropriate comments in class
- Engaged participation in group work and classroom activities, respectful attentiveness during student and guest presentations (students who talk or distract others will be asked to leave)
- All electronic devices out-of-sight and muted unless use is previously arranged with instructor

Missed class content:

- Students are expected to complete learning activities to demonstrate outcomes for missed class content, due before the start of the next class. Activities reflect knowledge and skills aligned with the course (e.g., watching a video, collaborative groupwork, reflections on readings). They ensure all learners experience the same content and outcomes. Instructors must be confident that skills and knowledge are demonstrated to meet competencies in the field (every class is relevant).
- All activities must be submitted for a final grade to be posted on Camlink; delay may impact a student's ability to register in the practicum as all courses are pre-requisite to MHA 140.

Repeated absence from class will be discussed with the student. Successful course completion will be jeopardized if more than 15% of class time is missed (for a 3-credit/45 hour course, this equals 6.75 hours).

Missed content activities are for exceptional circumstances as 100% attendance is expected.

5. Basis of Student Assessment (Weighting)

1. D2L Reflection & Discussion Postings - online	30%
2. Teaching & Learning Exchange:	35%
Activity Plan – D2L & hardcopy	15
Teaching Demonstration – video on flashdrive	10
Self-Critique & Peer Feedback – D2L & hardcopy	10
3. In-Class Activities: Team Case Scenario & Presentation	5%
4. In-Class Group Facilitation (skill development)	10%
4. Group Process & Facilitation Paper – D2L & hardcopy	20%

Details of assignments will be provided in class and online. Directions will include APA writing and format expectations (e.g., headings, spacing, font size, citations). Spelling, grammar, presentation of material, length, and demonstration of assignment expectations will be taken into consideration for grading.

Resources for writing, formatting, and referencing have been posted in D2L Content and are available at the Camosun Writing Centre and Camosun Library.

Assignments specified for online submission must be in Word or PDF format; OpenOffice users: "save as" Microsoft Word (.doc/x) before attaching. Students are responsible for maintaining an electronic copy of all submitted work until completion of MHA Program (coursework from one course may be used in another). It is strongly encouraged that students use the D2L Locker for work in-progress until uploaded and/or printed for submission. Students can download and print from D2L at Camosun if their flashdrive is damaged.

All assignments and learning activities must be submitted within 24 hours of the last day of instruction and demonstrate knowledge and skill at a grade level of "C" or higher to pass this course. This includes all D2L postings, in-class activity assignments, participation in skill development/labs, and attendance at presentations. Missed class content activities are required to be completed before the next face-to-face class.

Due Dates

Due dates are thoughtfully determined to maximize the application of concepts for students to demonstrate mastery as well as to provide a foundation to build on further course content (most courses are progressive in nature). Timing of due dates is significant: we want to avoid a student getting behind on assignments and learning activities as it may hinder a strong context for subsequent course concepts. To relate this to human services, those you are supporting may find it challenging to learn new concepts unless foundational knowledge is first attained.

Assignments specified to be submitted in hardcopy must be in by the start of class on the due date. Assignments to be submitted electronically (e.g., D2L reflections) must be uploaded to the designated area by 11pm on the due date, unless otherwise specified.

Late Policy

In fairness to all students, late assignments will be deducted 5% per 24-hour period after the first five minutes of class or online due time. If you anticipate a late arrival to class and want to avoid a late deduction, email the assignment to the instructor before due time so they see it is completed; submit hardcopy at the break or end of class to avoid disrupting class time.

Students may arrange with the instructor for an extension of an assignment before the due date; verifying documentation will be required. "Documentation" may take multiple forms (e.g., communication from a counselor/professional, emergency room discharge papers, and dated subpoena). Those with a Letter of Accommodation from the Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL) must have previously identified arrangements, as negotiated with the instructor at least 48 hours before due time. Typically, an extra two calendar days will be granted.

We recognize that there are multiple factors that could impact a students' ability to complete assignments on time. It is assumed that students work hard to complete assignments, may sacrifice other enjoyable activities, and employ good time management skills to meet deadlines. Even with the best intentions and strategies, unexpected situations can arise. Instructors hold no judgment of students who make the decision to take a day or two more to complete an assignment. The late deduction is often well-worth gaining extra time to complete the assignment with better learning outcomes and a decrease in stress.

Extra time...

If a student needs extra time without documentation (e.g., Letter of Accommodation):

- the deduction is only on the mark obtained, not on the value of the assignment. For example, if the mark achieved is 18/20 and it was submitted up to 24 hours late (by due time the next day), the late deduction is .9 (18 x 5%). If two days late, the deduction is 1.8 (18 x 10%).
- students are asked to send a brief email to the instructor before the class for which the assignment is due, as it may impact an in-class activity that builds on assignment work. There is no need to explain; instructors know there are many circumstances that effect a student's ability to complete on time.

We are supporting students to demonstrate competencies and successfully pass a course. If the original submission does not achieve a mark of 60% or more, the student must re-submit to demonstrate knowledge/skill at a level of "C" or higher.

Late deduction marks are applied for days an assignment is initially late, as well as days after the instructor returns an assignment to the student for re-submission. Assignments over 20 days past due do not earn marks (20 days x 5% = 100% deduction) but must be completed and assessed at a 60% knowledge/skill level.

The intention is that a student must demonstrate passing level knowledge/skill but they are not advantaged over other students who submitted their work on time and exceeded 60%.

All re-submissions, D2L postings, missed content activities, and final assignments (unless otherwise indicated) must be submitted within 24 hours of the last face-to-face class for consideration toward completion of the course.
