COURSE OUTLINE

The Approved Course Description is available on the web: <http://camosun.ca/learn/calendar/current/web/mrad.html>

Please note:

- This outline will be electronically stored for five (5) years only. It is strongly recommended students keep this outline for their records.
- This course is only open to students in the Medical Radiography program.

Introduction:

This course parallels and emphasizes topics presented in Relational Anatomy and Physiology 3.

The course content will be covered in a laboratory environment using digital patient images, and anatomical models. The content will provide an in-depth focus of the cardiovascular, nervous (CNS) and respiratory systems, cranium, neck and thorax. Patient images will mainly focus on sectional presentation. In addition, sectional images of the spine, abdomen and pelvis will be included.

This course will focus on the understanding of sectional images as represented in various body planes. The students will study the key anatomical structures and features featured on sectional anatomy as used by several disciplines such as Computed Tomography Scanning and Magnetic Resonance.

This course also has significant importance for the understanding and success of several courses such as Radiographic Procedures 3, Pathology 2 and CT Clinical Application.

Prerequisites: A minimum of "C+" in MRAD 105, MRAD 125

Students must achieve a minimum of a C+ (65%) to use this course as a prerequisite.

You may need to write down additional information in each lecture. Additionally, not all details can be covered in a lecture, and you will be required to refer to textbook material that is not discussed specifically in class.

Other Materials:

Additional resources may include, but are not limited to: lecture notes, PowerPoint slides, Textbook Companion Workbooks, Laboratory Manuals, and hyperlinks. You may prefer to download lectures notes ahead of time (when available) and then write your notes directly onto copies of the slides.

4. Student Evaluation

2 Mid Terms	50 %
Non-cumulative Final Exam	30 %
Professionalism	20 %
TOTAL	100 %

In emergency circumstances, a student may arrange to write a final examination before or after the scheduled time if the student would otherwise be unable to complete the program or course. Exceptions due to emergency circumstances, such as unavoidable employment commitments, health problems, or unavoidable family crises, require the approval of the instructor. Holidays or scheduled flights are not considered to be emergencies. The student may be required to provide verification of the emergency circumstance. (Camosun Academic Policy <http://camosun.ca/learn/calendar/current/pdf/academic-policies.pdf>)

Mid-term exams are written in class via D2L and are CLOSED BOOK!

The first midterm covers module 1.
The second mid-term covers modules 2&3
The Final Exam covers module 4 ONLY.

The final exam will be scheduled by the registrar and is non-cumulative.

In this course, there is a 20% mark for professionalism. Behaviors that contribute to this mark include, but are not limited to: attendance, punctuality, respect, accountability, communication, courtesy, responsibility, integrity and exercising sound judgment exemplary of an MRT.
