Introduction:

This course introduces the student to the fundamentals of specialized and interventional procedures in medical imaging. Students will focus on the anatomical and radiographic presentation for specific procedures: these being cerebral and renal angiography, angioplasty, embolization, stent insertions and AIF's. The curriculum also identifies commonly used surgical instruments, angiography catheters, contrast media and relevant technical exposure factors relative to specific procedures.

This course will also cover routine examinations for mammography, female reproductive and bone mineral densitometry (BMD) studies. It will include patient care, equipment, common pathologies, normal, and variant results for each of these procedures.

The curricula will be illustrated and delivered through online learning modules, online demonstrations and audiovisual aids.

Students must achieve a minimum of a C+ (65%) to use this course as a prerequisite. Refer to the Camosun Calendar for detailed information about course prerequisites.

You may prefer to download lectures notes ahead of time (when available) and then write your notes directly onto copies of the slides. Youtube and other media services will also be used throughout the course via public domains.

D2L materials must not be considered your sole source of information! They merely summarize the main points and provide direction for your learning experiences. You may need to write down additional information in each lecture. Additionally, not all details can be covered in a lecture, and you will be required to refer to textbook material that is not discussed specifically in class.

Other Materials:

Additional resources may include, but are not limited to: lecture notes, PowerPoint slides, Textbook Companion Workbooks, Laboratory Manuals, and hyperlinks. You may prefer to download lectures notes ahead of time (when available) and then write your notes directly onto copies of the slides.
