NAME: Cici Tavares RN, MSN

EMAIL: tavaresc@camosun.bc.ca

OFFICE: Collaborate Blackboard (D2L)

HOURS: Tuesday 11:30-2pm or by appointment Monday-Friday, clinical Thurs/Fri alternating D/E

As your course instructor, I endeavour to provide an inclusive learning environment. However, if you experience barriers to learning in this course, do not hesitate to discuss them with me. Camosun College is committed to identifying and removing institutional and social barriers that prevent access and impede success.

CALENDAR DESCRIPTION

Learners will extend and develop their foundational knowledge, skills, and dispositions for effective nurse-client therapeutic relationships in situations that are difficult, contentious, or distressing. Learners explore the influence of power and oppression on individual and population health. Learners will examine historical patterns of racism, ethnocentrism, colonialism, and neocolonialism in relation to health and health care systems. Social justice, interprofessional collaboration, and relational ethics are used to promote a culturally safe and compassionate nursing practice. Learners will gain competences to provide care for critically ill and dying persons, encompassing physical, spiritual, emotional and social needs in a person and family-centered approach.

PREREQUISITE(S): COM in NURS 290

PRE/CO-REQUISITE(S): C in NURS 332

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course a student will be able to:

- a) articulate the components of culturally safe, competent, ethical and compassionate nursing care in difficult, contentious and distressing situations.
- b) engage in scholarly critical reflection to inform nursing practice applying foundational curricular perspectives.
- c) incorporate diverse frameworks to enhance and synthesize understanding of complexity in relational practice.
- d) develop strategies to enact competent, ethical, and compassionate nursing care in difficult, contentious and distressing situations.
- e) critically analyze the impact of conflict on interprofessional team functioning in the context of rapidly changing or crisis situations.
- f) integrate relational ethics into effective clinical decision making in order to enhance quality of care.
- g) integrate knowledge of pathophysiology with clinical decision making in the context of health crisis, and/or end-of-life care, to enable therapeutic presence and competent care.
- h) identify nurse's role in the delivery of care regarding choices at end-of-life, including advance care planning.
- i) integrate principles of relational practice and theoretical frameworks to develop personal strategies to support patients and families related to end-of-life.
- j) evaluate the potential for intersecting social identities to impact health and wellness of individuals.
- k) recognize and develop responses to racism, neocolonialism, and ethnocentrism as it occurs in the practice setting.
- l) discuss the importance of applying a strength-based approach to Indigenous peoples' health, as a way of reducing colonizing approaches such as judgement, marginalization, and stigmatization of Indigenous peoples.
- m) analyze the implications of power and oppression on Indigenous people's individual and population health, in the context of colonization and residential schools in Canada on Indigenous peoples' health.
- n) formulate strategies to nurture cultural safety, applying principles of social justice to plan de-colonizing care.
